Work Experience (below navbar)

Desktop

The wireframe shows a desktop layout for the 'Work Experience' section. It consists of four main sections:

- Education: A red box containing "Education listed (kinda like resume)".
- Education notes: A red box containing a note about scroll-to-animation.
- Work Experience: A red box containing "List all jobs (col-3-5)".
- Work Experience notes: A red box containing a note about using JSON data to pull in job descriptions.
- Interests: A red box containing "Interests listed".
- Animation: A red box containing "Animation to go with".
- Copyright + socials: A light blue box containing "Copyright + socials (they're gonna be the same on every page)".

Education

Education listed
(I want these to stay next to each other)

Education animations
(honestly probably like that bootstrap refresher page except not animations the line things across to show completion)

Work Experience

Is it possible to make my work experience like list across the top so it can be selected? If not then make it get smaller into a dropdown or something so people can select and it'll show

Info about work experience / jobs

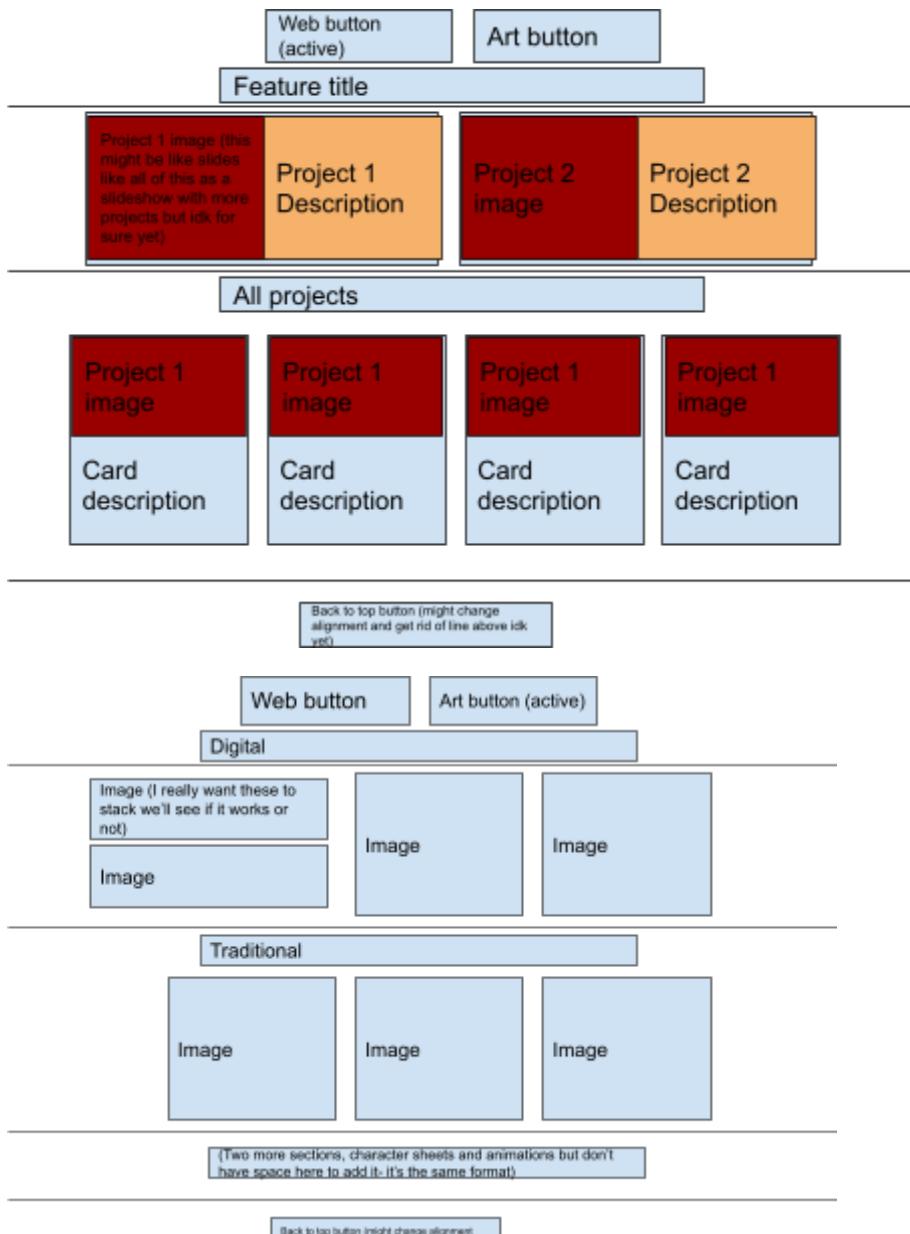

Interests

Animations

Portfolio (below navbar... gonna do two for each since it's different format depending on which is chosen)

I'd like to add an hr line here on mobile only- maybe an if statement on a minimum screen size or something

Content :

Header :

Top text: Hello

Text below: I'm Erin, a senior in high school working with art / design and web development

- Social media icons included: LinkedIn and any professional accounts, I'll probably be able to add some in the future

Image (I'll probably update it eventually but for now same image):

Homepage :

Image: (Again, might switch to a more recent event but I'd like it to be a social event picture with a friend or something- we'll see)

Professional Description: I'm an 18 year old programmer and artist. I am currently working on expanding my skills with jQuery and JavaScript. In my free time I enjoy drawing, hanging out with friends, and watching Netflix. In the future I would like to work as a frontend developer with a team of other developers and designers. Anyways, that's a bit about myself!

Images for the art slideshow:

(Going to add these later tonight)

Recent projects:

- NJIT 3 (All of these will be the exact same as the portfolio page so gonna put the description and images on there)
- NJIT 2
- Crochet Crew
- Bootstrap Refresher
- (If I can make the slideshow work / make it scroll through I'll add more)

Work Experience :

Education:

- Abbott Early Learning Center
 - 2010 - 2011
- Frank J Dugan Elementary School
 - 2011 - 2016
